Amy - it was a pleasure talking to you earlier. Below is a summary of the speakers we talked about.

Chelsea Clinton has never accepted an invitation. You are welcome to send any communication you'd like and I will pass it along to her.

Condeleeza Rice is represented by the Washington Speakers Bureau.

Cokie Roberts - $40,000 plus first class for one

- Political Analyst for ABC News; NPR Senior News Analyst; Former Co-Anchor, This Week with Sam Donaldson & Cokie Roberts

You had asked me about her and I had told you she was not considering invitations. I did talk to the Clinton Foundation recently and she might consider a very few select invitations. I mentioned your mission and Mrs. Starr's background and we think it might be something she would consider. Her honorarium would be $65,000 which would include expenses. If this is something that you and the President would like to explore more please let me know.

Subject: RE: A speaker for your Women's Hall of Fame?

Secretary Clinton's schedule is extremely crowded and if you did want to move forward with an invitation we'd need to talk about her requirements. You can use an honorarium of $275,000 inclusive of all expenses thought as a guideline.

Sheryl Sandberg does not do speeches unless they are something that Facebook would like her to do. Unfortunately Facebook does not offer any way to contact them except via the web.
